JOBBING BUSINESS GROWS

Unsettled Weather the Only Bad Factor.

Merchants Look for Great Activity in All Lines With the Opening of Spring.

Retail merchants of Salt Lake report that the past week gave them a larger trade than any previous week of the present year. While business generally is not yet what it should be, as compared to last year, when the growth of the city is taken into consideration, there is every indication of early improvement, and even a better year on the whole. The unsettled weather has been a factor in delaying the spring revival in trade, but this very factor, with the unusually heavy precipitation which it has occasioned, will be the making of greater business later in the season. The jobbing trade is already Improving steadily in almost every line, while real estate is picking up at a marked rate. Even this early there is activity in building, a great many moderate cost residences being already under way and a market of the steady der way and a number of more expensive ones having been planned. Plans for business and office blocks are not maturing rapidly, but there is reason to believe that several large ones will be built during the year, so that, with the new Y. M. C. A. building in progress, the new depots assured, and the great number of apartment houses and residences which are continually going up, there is sure to be employment for more than the usual number of build-

The feature of the week in commer-cial stocks was the throwing on the market of a large block of Idaho Sugar stock, which forced the price down to $10. It is understood, however, that the stock offered all went into permanent hands at that figure, and that no more can be obtained at the same price. #### CASTILLA SPRINGS

IN NEW HANDS

Jacob Myers of Salt Lake has secured a ten years' lease on Castilla Springs and is starting work on the improvements for this summer resort, on which he intends spending from $12,000 to $15,000. The hotel is being remodeled and refurnished, with modern conveniences in the shape of telephones and electric light. A new dancing pavilion is being built, as well as a new bathhouse and swimming pool.

These who are fond of sport will find a baseball ground and a small bicycle track, while a large lake which will be excavated and stocked with the will give good sport with rod and line. Besides this, some fifty cottages are to be built. Utah Educators Win and Will Have an Opportunity to Show Their Work to the World.

Gov. Wells received a telegram late last night to the effect that the management of the World's fair had granted the application made by this State for space in the educational building. This news will be received with delight by the educators of this State, and it is cercollecting a most creditable exhibit. The schools of Utah rank third in the classification of the schools of the United States. The State fair commissioners will doubtless make an appropriation for the collection of the educational display immediately.

A meeting of the Utah commission will be held in this city Monday, immediately after which Director-General Whit-taker will leave for St. Louis to com-plete the work to be done before the opening of the fair. The last carload of exhibits to be shipped has been loaded and is now waiting in Ogden to be trans-ported to the fair city. ported to the fair city.

THE J. I. C. TO RESUME. There is jubilation in Park City over the fact that the J. I. C. is going to resume in a short time, with a stronger capitalization and under more propi-tious circumstances than ever before. News comes from Salt Lake City to the effect that the West Quincy Mining company has taken hold of the J. L. C. property with a view of immediate op-eration. The capitalization, so says a report coming from a reliable source, has been doubled and the bonds that formerly encumbered the old people have been eliminated. All the shares of the old company have been taken and Mr. Roy Hughes, prominent in the new company, is quoted by a well-known mining man as expressing the hope that the Park City shareholders will hold to their stock. It is under-stood that Mr. Turner, manager of the former company, will be retained. ORE SHIPMENTS. The ore shipments for the past week Ontario
